Accessibility Policy

The Arkansas Judiciary website makes every effort possible to ensure that users can access the website without accessibility problems. The site was tested with many different users in mind, and passed rigorous testing to make sure that accessibility was not an issue. However, in an age with so many browsers and screen resolutions, security policies, and computer setups it is likely that a unique situation wasn't planned for. We seek to meet the standards set forth by the Web Accessibility Initiative [1]. If you feel that you are having accessibility issues with this site then please contact the Web Coordinator [2].

Privacy Policy

The Arkansas Judiciary website does not collect any data without your permission that could be used to identify you. You may enter your personal information into some portions of this site, but that is only done with your permission. If you have a problem with something specific you may contact the Web Coordinator [3].

- Web Statistics Only Policy
 - Only click-stream data, HTTP protocol elements and search terms will be recorded. None of this information will personally identify you. This data will be used for completion and support of the current activity, website and system administration, and research and development.
- Data Collection Policy
 - In addition to the same information that is collected by the Web Statistics Only Policy, this policy also collects, if the user decides to take advantage of these services, transaction information such as contact information and demographic data. This data will be used for completion and support of the current activity, website and system administration, and research and development. The user must opt-in to this usage.
